

Life AFTER FEDERAL SERVICE.

Last year, when you had a tough problem, you visited Joe to discuss the options. He retired in December. Faced with another recruiting dilemma like the one Mary Alice helped you solve? She took an early out in May. Fortunately, Joe, Mary Alice and a cadre of their colleagues have found life after Federal service—at Avue. These former Feds provide deep workforce management expertise which, combined with the latest technology, get you the answers you need. And if you happen to be a Joe or Mary Alice yourself and want to use your well-earned knowledge, passion for change, and desire to be of service, we'd like to discuss new challenges and exciting opportunities with you.
